Byrd Flight Disappointing to Government Scientists

Regular Ocean Passenger Aviation By No Means Near At Hand

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Now that the first hullabaloo over Dick Byrd & Co.'s overseas flight has had time to subside, this idea is beginning to take shape:

Regular transatlantic passenger aviation is by no means as nearly at hand as many people had imagined.

Of course the government's expedition, led by Commander Byrd, was a performance as far as the future of transatlantic air service between America and Europe, but they did believe that a triumphant round trip by Byrd and his companions would be a direct step in that direction.

Try as hard as they will, officials of the commerce department's aviation division evidently find it difficult to stick to the version that the Byrd quartet did all that was hoped from them.

LINDBERGH, Chamberlain and Levine, knowing little or nothing about scientific navigation, were not credited with having developed much information which ever could greatly enlighten professionals.

Navy men, especially, accustomed to regard a navigator as the product of a highly specialized form of education, looked on their feats as having proved nothing in particular, and, if it took off under bad weather conditions, did not seem to expect under unusually favorable conditions.

Byrd was depended on to add materially to the sum total of technical knowledge.

A TRAINED seaman, a skilled aviator, aerial discoverer of the farthest north, he was deemed an ideal commander for the voyage.

There was nothing of the reckless sporting dash about it. It was a well-thought-out expedition, which took its time about starting, and, if it took off under bad weather conditions, did not seem to expect under unusually favorable conditions.

Outfit and equipment were all that could have been desired.

The crew was large, for a plane, and very carefully selected.

It makes the navy seem to have to admit that, while Byrd did, indeed, prove something, what he proved was that so elaborately planned a venture wasn't proof of anything.

THE harvesting stories told by members of the Byrd party, concerning the frightful weather they encountered, fail to relieve the navy department's embarrassment.

As one critic expressed it:

"It is to be hoped that this, that they'll be better off in the past, telling what a terrible voyage they had going over."

Thrusts like this make the navy writhe.

If it hadn't been for the Lindbergh

SECRETARY HOOVER PLANS AVIATION CONFERENCE

Department of Commerce Interested in Launching Commercial Air Program

Washington, July 8.—The United States Government, through the Department of Commerce, has been quick to respond to the keen interest in aviation which has developed following the transatlantic flight.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is planning to convene an aviation conference to be held in the autumn which will endeavor to launch the United States on a commercial aviation program which may equal that being carried out in European countries.

"Domestic Air News," a publication issued every fortnight, has been launched by the Department of Commerce, to give information concerning commercial aviation.

The department of commerce, has also created a special bureau in the establishment of municipal airports, which are now springing up all over the country.

Fleets with fronts made entirely from artificial flowers are among the most original new notions for day wear.

New York, July 8.—A new record for realty transactions has been set up here. Dr. Preston Pope, Hatterwhite, has purchased for $450,000 a twenty-room suite in a new apartment house now under construction on Fifth Avenue. The apartment will cost Dr. Hatterwhite approximately $22,000 per room.

twenty-seven rooms on three floors for $185,000.

The apartment house which Dr. Hatterwhite has purchased in will cost $450,000 and will have only twelve tenants. One apartment, a quadruple with rooms on four floors, listed for sale at $210,000.

D.A. FRANK HOME IS PURCHASED BY JIM DUGAN

Former Owner To Establish Residence in Sarasota, Fla.; To Move Nov. 1

The D. A. Frank home, one of Marion's most attractive residence properties located at 350 Bellefontaine-av. was purchased today by Jim Dugan, local clothing merchant, and in connection with the transaction Mr. Frank completed arrangements for establishing his residence permanently at Sarasota, Fla.

Mr. Dugan will take possession of the Frank home on Oct. 1, and Mr. Frank, accompanied by his wife, will leave for their home in Sarasota on Nov. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank will occupy a house in Sarasota which they purchased several years ago as a winter home, dividing their time since then between Sarasota and Marion.

Started Store in 1900
Announcement of Mr. Frank's plans to locate in Florida is of exceptional interest in Marion, where he was an important figure in business circles for many years. The Frank Bros. Co., one of the city's largest dry goods and department store concerns in the early growth of a business started by Mr. Frank in 1900.

The business had its beginning with a store opened that year by Mr. Frank in the E. Center-st. room now occupied by the Smart & Waddell shoe store. From there the Frank establishment moved to the Busby Building, W. Center and Prospect-sts., now occupied by Kleinmeyer Bros., and later was transferred to the new Frank building erected on the corner opposite the Busby block.

Built 20 Years Ago

The building was completed 20 years ago and has been occupied by the Frank store since that time. D. A. Frank is still owner of the building although he is no longer a member of the mercantile firm, having sold his interest in the business seven years ago. Since then he has not engaged actively in business with the exception of management of his real estate holdings and other interests here and in Florida.

Mr. Frank stated today that he and Mrs. Frank plan to live at Sarasota eight months each year and to spend the other four months visiting in Marion and other cities.

The Frank home, where Mr. Dugan and his family will reside after Oct. 1, is an artistically designed brick and stone structure built 10 years ago. It stands in the center of a spacious lot, beautifully landscaped with flowers and shrubbery, facing on Bellefontaine-av. and extending south on Windsor-st.

Artemisia, widow of Mausolus King of Caria, erected a magnificent tomb to his memory; hence our word mausoleum.

OHIO STATE BAR GROUP HONORS LOCAL LAWYERS

G. E. Mouser Chosen District Vice Head; H. S. Young Recommended for Post

Judge Grant E. Mouser was elected as one of the district vice presidents of the Ohio State Bar Association and Hector S. Young was recommended for reappointment as a member of the legislative committee at the annual session of the association held at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, last week.

Mouser was elected without opposition to represent the third Ohio appellate district as vice president, each district being represented by an official member. The third district consists of 14 counties, including Marion. Last year Mouser was president of the state association's legislative committee.

Served With Group Mouser served as a member of the legislative committee during the last year and his reappointment was recommended because of his familiarity with the committee's work.

Under the action taken at the annual session, proposed reappointment of this question will be referred to the hands of the committee, which will be the one with which Young is connected.

Hunt of Coshocton was elected president at yesterday's session.

Young Mouser and Judge George B. Smith returned from Cedar Rapids last night after having attended the annual sessions of the convention, which closed today.

Howard F. Guthrie and Fred W. Warner, who also attended the convention, are remaining for the final day's session and will return home tonight.

ANOTHER MARION CITIZEN FREE OF NEURITIS PAINS

Says Konjola Also Cleared Up Miserable Case of Stomach and Kidney Trouble

In the worst form of neuritis the pain is piercing—just like hot daggers cutting into the nerves," said the Konjola Man yesterday at The Stump Pharmacy, 121 South Main St., Marion.

MR. REASON HEFFLEY

He is introducing the new medical product, Konjola, to the people of Marion and vicinity.

"Many authorities have stated that the agony of neuritis is likened unto an electrical shock; the terrible pain may grab the sufferer at frequent intervals, coming more often each time. Some call the affliction neuralgia, others say it is like rheumatism, but in either event, it is a terrible affliction and one of the most agonizing diseases man and beast is heir to," continued the Konjola Man.

It is surprising what this new medical preparation, Konjola, will accomplish in so many instances of neuritis suffering. By invigorating the liver and kidneys, the poisons are eliminated; the system is cleansed; the nerves become stronger, and Konjola brings amazing relief to the neuritis sufferer. Many people in Marion are strongly endorsing Konjola for the suffering pains of neuritis. Just a few days ago, Mr. Reason Heffley, 221 Superior St., this city, made the following remarkable statement:

"Besides stomach and kidney troubles I was suffering dreadfully with neuritis," said Mr. Heffley. "My arms were affected with awful pains, and the muscles in my shoulders and neck seemed to draw up and pull at every nerve across my back. I couldn't sleep at night and my kidneys were so weak I always had back-aches and was out of bed 4 or 5 times a night. My digestion was poor and I suffered miserably with my stomach."

"I spent all kinds of money for medical attention and different remedies but I found out about this new Konjola. But now I am free of the awful pains in my arms and shoulders, and I sleep perfectly at night. The kidney trouble and night aches in back, and everything without much trouble. I will always endorse Konjola for the great relief this medicine has brought me."

The Konjola Man is at the Stump Pharmacy (Stump & Smith, 121 South Main Street, Marion, Ohio), who is selling the local product and is explaining the benefits and advantages of Konjola. Free samples given.

JUNE TAX RECEIPTS SET RECORD THIS PERIOD

Collections Total $134,235.01; Balance on Hand July 1, $619,997.81

Tax receipts during June swelled the cash balance in the county treasury to one of the highest figures on record for this time of the year.

The balance on June 30, as shown by the monthly report of County Auditor Thomas, completed today, was $621,782.28. Receipts during June totaled $134,235.01 and expenditures $37,768.00.

Of the balance on hand at the close of June, $619,997.81 was on deposit on the books of the county drawing interest at contract rates ranging between two and four per cent. The larger part of the June taxes will be received this month, assuring a large increase in the treasury balance and a proportionate increase in depository interest payments. Interest on deposits brought the county $1,550.40 in June.

The tax collection in June amounted to $5,638.42. This makes a total of $6,574.39 collected from cigarette dealers for their yearly licenses. Auditor Thomas is now preparing to distribute this balance to the various funds which share cigarette license fees under provisions of the state law.

LEVINE NAMES DROUHIN PILOT ON BELLANCA

First Flight Made by Frenchman in Huge Transoceanic Craft

London, July 8.—The Bellanca monoplane, Columbia, with Clarence D. Chamberlin, Charles A. Levine and Maurice Drouhin aboard, arrived at Croydon Flying Field from Paris at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

The three noted fliers hopped off from Le Bourget Flying Field at 12:53 P. M., making the trip in a little more than two hours and a half.

Chamberlin and Levine and the Drouhin French flier who has contracted to pilot Levine from Paris to New York in the Columbia were welcomed officially by F. G. L. Berton, deputy director of civil aviation, and Major Harcourt, American air attaché.

A crowd of about 500 persons were at Croydon Field when Chamberlin brought the Columbia to the ground in a perfect landing. The fliers were cheered sporadically.

First Time in Columbia It was the first time Drouhin had been in the plane that recently made a non-stop flight from New York to Kottbus, Germany.

Announcement that Drouhin had been signed to make the return flight across the Atlantic was made early this morning by Levine who was en route to the Frenchman who is the former holder of the airplane endurance record.

Mrs. Levine, too, expressed confidence in Drouhin and on this occasion will make no objection to her husband's transatlantic trip. She will not return to America with Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin next week but will remain here to see her husband off with Drouhin—probably in about two weeks when the Columbia has been put in readiness for the long flight.

Regret over Drouhin's decision to fly with Levine was expressed by Dick Farman, owner of the Farman monoplane which Drouhin had planned to pilot to America.

Regrets Drouhin's decision to go with Levine, particularly since he did not notify us previously, said Farman. "We have no contract with Drouhin and cannot prevent him from leaving."

Drouhin and Levine will experience some difficulty in talking to each other during their proposed flight as Drouhin speaks no English and Levine knows only a few words in French, Drouhin, however, said they can convey essential information to each other by gesture. Still they plan to take a French-English dictionary with them and will point out words to each other whenever the occasion arises.

Levine's attorney drew up the contract for Drouhin which included specification that Drouhin's wife and family will be taken care of in the event of a disaster.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT FORD'S RETRACTION STARTS ON PAGE 1

his publication, the Dearborn Independent, would contain nothing in its columns in any way favoring of an attack on persons of the Hebrew faith. The announcement, contained in a letter to Marshall, and made public by Arthur Brisbane, expressed Ford's regret that the columns of his publication had carried stories anti-Semitic in their nature, and characterized as "righteous indignation" the objections made by Jews to the stories which had appeared.

Ford further announced that pamphlets containing reprints of the articles would be withdrawn from circulation.

The anti-Semitic attacks, brought to nation wide attention during the trial of the $1,000,000 libel suit filed by Aaron Rapin, lawyer and marketing expert, against the motor magnate some months ago, were not printed with Ford's knowledge, the statement declared, and Ford had become cognizant of them only after a personal study of the files of the Dearborn Independent which he has just completed.

"To my great regret," the statement said, "I have learned that Jews generally, particularly those in this country, not only resent these publications as promoting anti-Semitism, but also regard me as their enemy."

"Trusted friends with whom I have conferred recently have assured me that in their opinion the character of the charges and insinuations made against the Jews, both in divinely and collectively, contained in many articles which have been circulated periodically in the Dearborn Independent, have been reported in pamphlets, justified the righteous indignation manifested by Jews everywhere toward me because of the mental anguish occasioned by the unprovoked reflections made upon them."

Reply Marital

"This has led me to direct my personal attention to this subject, in order to ascertain the exact nature of these attacks. As a result of this survey I confess that I am deeply mortified that this journal, which is intended to be constructive and not destructive, has been made the medium for misrepresenting and giving currency to the so-called protests of the vilest kind of those who have been characterized as I know, to be going deeper, only to find that the Jewish people have been treated in a completely unjustified manner. I am deeply sorry that this journal has been made the medium for such misrepresentation and giving currency to the so-called protests of the vilest kind of those who have been characterized as I know, to be going deeper, only to find that the Jewish people have been treated in a completely unjustified manner."

SON OF FAMOUS SURGEON WEDS

A recent wedding of national interest was that of Miss Ruth Rakowsky, pretty Joplin, Mo., debutante, and Dr. Joseph G. Mayo, young son of Dr. Charles H. Mayo, world-famous surgeon of Rochester, Minn.

ancestors have done for civilization and for mankind toward the development of commerce and industry, of their sobriety and diligence, their benevolence and their unselfish interest in the public welfare."

Asks Forgiveness Pointing out there are "black sheep in every flock," the motor king, however, conceded it was wrong to judge a people by a few individuals, and "I therefore join in condemning unreservedly all wholesale denunciations and attacks."

Ford said he was shocked as a result of his study of the files of the Independent, and also the pamphlets, which had been sent out under the general title of "The International Jew." He expressed the conviction his friends would bear witness to his personal disavowal from prejudice, and voiced his desire to "make amends" and "ask forgiveness" by retracting "so far as lies within my power the offensive charges laid at the door of the Jews."

MAN INJURED IN FALL FROM AUTO TAKEN HOME

Carl Blosser, 558 Silver-st, who sustained a double fracture of the lower jaw when he fell off the running board of an automobile on W. Center-st, last Sunday night, was removed to his home late Wednesday from City Hospital.

He also sustained a gash on his head and a cut over his left eye in the accident.

Many years before his death, which occurred in 1885, James Henry Payne, the notorious miser, handed to Mr. Chickering, the Boston piano maker, a package for safe keeping and took no receipt, or other acknowledgment. Many years later, during the celebrated legal contest over Payne's estate, Mr. Chickering happened to recall the incident, took the dust-covered package from his safe, and tightly rolled in an old handkerchief, found $400,000 of the miser's accumulations which he at once turned into the estate.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT BRITAIN'S PLAN STARTS ON PAGE 1

approximately 600,000 tons—more than twice what the United States and Japan have been willing to grant.

Moreover, the British cruiser program would call for expenditure of billions in increased armament, rather than the saving of billions in decreased armament, a factor that world opinion will take into account in fixing responsibility for the failure of the conference.

Another British Interest

The British government is not anxious to be placed in such a position, and it is for this reason that Sir Eame Howard has been ordered back to Washington to remain until the situation clears up.

British diplomacy also has another interest in Washington at this time. Myron T. Herrick, American Ambassador to France, has reached here with the draft of the proposed treaty between the United States and France "outlawing war" between the two countries.

His government, Sir Eame admitted, is "greatly interested" in this proposed Franco-American pact. He has discussed it with Secretary of State Kellogg, and there will be other conferences during the summer. Great Britain's own treaty of amity with France expires next year. Thus far on steps have been taken to renew it, and the British foreign office is keenly interested in the Franco-American negotiations.

Should the Geneva conference fail, as indicated, the onus being placed on Britain, and on top of that a new treaty of amity and friendship be negotiated between the United States and France, it would be a poor diplomatic summer for Britain.

Hence Sir Eame's return to the midsummer heat of Washington.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE DISCUSSES CRUISER ISSUE

Geneva, July 8.—With the fate of the tri-power conference for the limitation of naval armament in the balance, the executive committee met today but made no program during the forenoon toward a settlement of the cruiser issue which threatens to precipitate a break up of the conference.

Before the executive committee assembled the committee of experts on naval affairs met and drew up a report covering the points that already had been agreed upon by the conference. These chiefly related to the definition and categories of ships.

When the executive committee convened this report was considered and adopted.

Question Complicated

But when it came to the business of settling the cruiser tonnage controversy the executive committee appeared to be stumped. If anything the question became even more complicated when they discussed it because the Japanese took the present strength of auxiliary craft as basis of opposing, in principle, the granting of British and American parity in cruiser strength which does not now exist.

The Japanese proposal, experts figure, amounts to an allotment of a combined cruiser and destroyer tonnage to the three nations involved, as follows:

Great Britain 400,000 tons.

United States 450,000 tons.

Japan 310,000 tons.

The Japanese are not only supporting America against Great Britain in its efforts to curtail cruiser tonnage but now show every indication of adhering to the lowest figure suggested by the United States—250,000 tonnage for Great Britain and the United States.

Among the many interesting objects in the Royal Institution Museum in London is a little ring about six inches in diameter from which Paraday, the great inventor, obtained the first induction spark, thus making a discovery which is the basis of the modern electric lighting system.

"DON'T YOU TOUCH THAT BAG, IT'S POLITICAL POISON!"
"DON'T WORRY ABOUT ME, DONK, I KNOW MY ONIONS."

It's the old, old story. Those gatherings called for the assembling of radicals, dilettantes and other enemies of our form of government by organizations, with especially impressive names are generally as alike as peas in regard to their importance, or rather lack of importance. They arise and descend and often succeed in getting their utterances into type without the poverty of attendance being developed in the story, and too often they are given publicity to such a degree as to mislead readers into the possible view that the gatherings are made up of representative citizens whose views are worthy of consideration.

There seems no charm in nature, to a daisy I:
 There seems no anthem ringing in the sea and sky;
 Nature sings to me no longer, earless listener I:
 State for state, with all attendants, who would change?
 Change? Not I.

A political cartoon by Phil Witte. It depicts an elephant, representing the Republican Party, and a donkey, representing the Democratic Party. Both animals are shown from the side, facing each other. The elephant's back is labeled 'REPUBLICAN PARTY' and the donkey's back is labeled 'DEMOCRATIC PARTY'. They are both reaching their heads down towards a small bag on the ground. The bag is labeled '3RD TERM ISSUE'. The scene is set outdoors with a simple fence in the background. The cartoon is signed 'WITTE' in the bottom right corner.

MYSTERY ALARM FROM NEW FIRE BOX ANSWERED

Source of Unclear-av Call Undetermined by Chief McFarland

Whether prompted by curiosity to see how the new type of fire alarm box worked or whether someone was seeking late entertainment by sending in a false alarm, is not known, but shortly after 11 o'clock last night the aerial ladder crew with Chief McFarland and his crew from the central station and the pumper from No. 2 station, responded to a call from Box 130 on Unclear-av. When the firemen arrived at the box no person was in sight, nor could any trace of a fire be found. A new type of fire alarm box had been installed at this place which is easier to operate than the old type, and is thought someone in a moment of curiosity was investigating its operation.

DAILY TESTED RECIPE

CHOCOLATE COOKIES
One cup sugar, one egg, three-fourths cup melted butter, three-fourths cup sour milk, two cups flour, one-half teaspoon baking soda, one-fourth teaspoon cream of tartar, two-thirds cup nut meats, two heaping tablespoons cocoa. Drop in small quantities on greased tins and bake in moderate oven.

CASE OF FIREPLACE

Never throw waste paper on an open fire unless you watch it carefully. All open fireplaces should be provided with the screens, especially in the home where there are children.

No matter, if it is attractive, avoid that small rag directly in front of the fireplace. A firing spark might cause trouble should it land in its soft nap.

Flirt and the world flirts with you. Be prim and you walk alone.

Miss C. Nasset Tells How Cuticura Healed Blisters

"My sister's trouble started with a sore eruption by her mouth and soon spread over most of her face. It was in the form of blisters that itched, causing her to scratch. Scratching caused eruptions and her face was disfigured for a while. The irritation subsided but her face was still disfigured. 'We tried almost everything but with no result. She had the trouble about a month when we purchased Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Relief was had in a few days, and after using two boxes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment, she was healed.' (Signed) Miss Cornelia Nasset, South Hart, Ne. Dakota.

CHAPTER FIFTY-ONE
The chamber and the muffled sittings, but no demonstration that might be construed asavoring of their toward the Gate of the Duggers. With one accord they started forward, hands raised long whips and swords with the same movement. One of the whips lashed out and a thin, singing sword lashed through the gloom, its blade reflecting the blood-tint of the torches.

It was time for quick and drastic action, and Larry, temporarily discarding his efforts toward donning his latest disguise, ripped out his automatic and sent as playing volley among the keepers. Like wheat before a scythe the ranks of the guards thinned, broke and fled, so that in a trice all that remained to remind of them was the thudding of rapidly running feet off in the gloom.

The prisoners, sensing that here was one who meant to give them their freedom, swept forward, their silent sullenness gone. Wild shouts rocked the gloomy chamber and excited voices called to him. He raised a hand to enjoin silence. Gazing across the assemblage he noted that the prisoners were, indeed, many, for they filled every foot of available space all about him. He had heard previously that nearly a thousand men were held here, and he judged that this figure must be approximately correct. He spoke to them:

"The door of the Temple stands open. I do not know, but it is in my mind that if we search we shall find arms. Of a surety the marabouts must have a arsenal here, else how have they armed their minions at will to hold you and those like you in subjugation? Upward, then, to freedom, and strike a bold blow for liberty. All of you who are opposed to the cursed system used by the Marabout Group will either strike out for the army of the Sheikh Tahar el-Hassan, or will follow me where I lead."

By now he had drawn on the burnhouse, a bizarre thing of garish, barred cloth, gleaming crimson and tinted white in the gloom. He pulled the turban on his head, the curtains flapping about his neck and flowing down across his shoulders. In this garb he looked for all the world like a reckless, dominating sheikh of the Arabian deserts. Automatic in hand, its safety catch loose, the chamber filled with fresh cartridges, he led the way upstairs and into the massive tribal throne room.

With shouts of vengeance against the Marabout Group the liberated prisoners followed Larry as, with Benna beside him, he entered the room. He indicated with a sweep of his hand and a few swift words that those who clustered about him might feel free to sack the Temple. The resultant din was tremendous. Men ripped the ornate hangings from the walls, shattered glass and mingled a confusion that was incredible. After a time they began drifting back to the tribal throne room, most of them laden with arms. For the most part they were equipped now with long, Moorish swords, while a few carried black-barreled rifles.

As though they looked toward Larry for leadership the men went silent as they joined him and Benna once more. Plainly they were awaiting his orders for the next phase of their marvellous dash for freedom. He saw a tall, saturnine-faced man standing silent hard by him and said:

"Do you take six men and search carefully, seeing if you can locate the storage place of the powder of the marabouts. When you find it, let me know. I shall await you here."

The other turned without a word, beckoning to some of those about him, and the party immediately made off. Within the half hour that followed he saw every man of the liberated prisoners return to the great room armed to the teeth, and by the end of that time the searching party he had sent forth returned and the leader made a quick report:

"Beneath the Gate of the Duggers is a passage. It leads back until it is almost under the throne room, thus accounting for the corner in the prison chamber beneath whose door exists this place is the storage house for powder and shot and it is filled rich unto bursting. Helike, there is enough powder there to blow the Temple clear to Allah."

"Or to hell," said Larry, sentimentally, his guttural Chiech shattering the very air with its vehemence. He raised his voice:

"Al, you men who have been given your freedom by me: Outside a battle no doubt still rages, unless the Marabout of Adrar has, indeed, overcome the Sheikh Tahar el-Hassan. Forward, through the gates, and join the sheikh. If we die in the conflict, it shall be as Allah will. Anything is better than this."

"Anything is better than this," came the answering echo from a hundred throats, and pressing forward the small army, smarting under the late treatment of the marabouts, burning with vengeance against those who had oppressed the imprisoned, swept through the Temple exits, across the narrow court and through three great gates in the white walls. As the last man vanished, taking along even the few sunshades who had served as guards for the building, Larry turned to Benna:

"I entered here by way of the Gate of the Duggers, Little White Flower, and it is in my mind that we two, you and I, shall depart that way. Come."

Drink Problem

BY VIRGINIA LEE

THE letter signed "Saddened Brown Eyes" has touched a responsive chord in the breast of another "Brown Eyes." She writes to deplore the drink habit, and raises the question: as to why when a young fellow is trying to break off a bad habit, his friends (?) fear at him until he again yields to temptation.

Following is her letter:

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I have a friend who is the best in town if he would not drink. I'll say he is a Galahad in every way. But drink takes all the beauty out of him. He has tried to stop.

Now Mrs. Lee, here is another thing. When a fellow tries to stop any bad habit his friends all mock him so that only the strongest will power and aim can keep them on their goal. While others, not being able to stand the awful mockery will keep on with the habit.

"Why, oh why, do not men play the real pale and give their fellows a helping hand instead of dragging them to the gutter? You say that they must be dangerous to be popular, but if they knew that they look like animals and how we girls detest these habits, maybe they wouldn't consider themselves so popular.

"It isn't hard, boys, to stop the habits. You've got the stuff, the will power, the mind. For God's sake use it. It's so much healthier and happier for all.

"And don't forget that we all can't help having the Galahad. 'JUST ANOTHER BROWN EYES.' I am afraid it's no use telling them it's easy to break a bad habit. 'Brown Eyes' because we all know it's not, but that it can be done. I heartily agree. As to why one's boon companions always try to drag a man back when he tries to reform, well, I suppose they hate to lose his companionship and they are afraid he will turn out to be that big bear of the male species—a 'sissy.' And the reason he yields is often the same reason. He can't see that his yielding is the weakness—not his resistance to temptation. It might help some if all the girls felt as you two do, and would have nothing to do with a young man who drank to excess. I said, you know, that men think the girls want him to be 'dangerous.'"

Menu Hints

Recipes for New and Novel Dishes; Household Ideas and Suggestions

USE as little heat as possible in cooking your meals in summer. If you have an oven roast take the time you are cooking it to do any baking you must. If your meat is to be cooked on top of the stove plan the rest of the meal accordingly. In the following menu the vegetables are cooked with the meat, and the dessert is a cold one, so little heat will be necessary, and if you are using gas or oil heat one burner will be all that is necessary. Stewed meat, it might be added, chopped and seasoned, is fit for sandwiches. Plain sugar cookies, baked when the oven is being used for something else, would be a nice accompaniment to the strawberries and gelatin.

$25,000 LOSS SUSTAINED IN FIRE ON FARM

Five Registered Stallions Die When Barn Near Kenton Burns

Kenton, July 8.—One of the most disastrous farm fires in the history of Hardin County destroyed a large barn and garage on the Fulton Brothers farm, northwest of here, Thursday evening, July 6, causing a loss of $25,000.

The barn was struck by lightning during a heavy electrical storm that swept the district. The farm is one of the largest in the county consisting of 1400 acres.

Registered livestock, farm machinery, hay and grain were consumed in the two structures. An instant after the bolt struck the mammoth structure was enveloped in flames and volunteer fire fighters who gathered at the scene were powerless to save any of the animals or farm machinery.

Included in the loss were five registered stallions, two registered cows, two registered ewes, 2,500 bushels of corn, two carloads of barley, 50 tons of alfalfa hay, two new binders, one tractor and a Ford truck.

The barn was constructed three years ago at a cost of $14,000 and was one of the largest in the county. The loss is practically covered by insurance.

Fire on Taylor Farm
A second farm fire of unknown origin destroyed a barn and outbuildings on the Cliff Taylor farm, west of here, causing damages estimated at $5,000. Grain, hay and much of the farm machinery stored in the structures, were destroyed.

A high wind caused the fire to spread rapidly and frustrated efforts of volunteer bucket brigades to get the blaze under control.

Action by the council adopting the temporary repair program for this year was made upon the suggestion of Governor Snyder, highway commissioner, who also presented a plan for the street widening next year. Curbings will be placed back three feet on each side of the street giving it a width of 42 feet under his plan. ## Mt. Gilead Banker Speaks at Kiwanis Club Meeting

MT. GILEAD, July 8.—W. F. Bruce, recently returned from California, was the speaker at the weekly Thursday noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club yesterday. He spoke on "California," giving a resume of the history, people and the work being accomplished at the present in the Pacific coast state.

According to Mr. Bruce, in 1793, Charles III of Spain sent out an expedition for the settlement of what is now southern California. As monks always accompanied the soldiers, a large body of priests went with the expedition which established fortifications in expectation of a war with Russia. The monks established a chain of mission houses between what is now San Diego and San Francisco at 40 or 50 mile intervals. This distance was counted a day's journey over the desert. In 1823, these missions passed into the hands of invading Mexicans and eventually became privately owned. They were stripped of all articles of value and now only one remains complete. This one is at Santa Barbara and is still used as a mission house.

Mr. Bruce declared the character of the Californian differs from any one of the American pioneers who settled there. He stated that nearly every citizen state has a large number of natives living in California.

He stated that the banking outlook in California was very prosperous; a report of finances for Los Angeles last Saturday showed $625,000,000 in the city banks which are nearly all under state supervision.

Earthquake Danger
Among other things, he stated they had a very interesting building program, and that new skyscrapers are constantly being raised. "A skyscraper," he explained, "in California means a building of 10 or 12 stories. If they are higher, the earthquake will topple them over."

He stated that the natives live from the products of three things: fruits, nuts and tourists, and that the most valuable of the three was the tourist, who contributes generously to the progress and upkeep of California. He said that 200,000 tourists spent last winter in Los Angeles.

H. L. French, a postal inspector of Marion, was the guest of Postmaster F. H. Miller, at this meeting. At the next meeting J. Guy O'Donnell of Covington will be present with 15 entertainers.

JUDGE PLACES SENTENCE AT 3 TO 15 YEARS

Ask Leniency for Information Furnished Regarding Church Thefts

Columbus, July 8.—Ray Marsden, alias George Clark, alias Henry Dean, Flint, Mich., today was completing the first day of three to 15 year sentence, at the Ohio Penitentiary here, imposed at Upper Sandusky for the robbery of the Church of Our Lady of Consolation at Carey.

Marsden served weeks ago confessed he had robbed 7,000 churches in the United States and Canada in the past 12 years. He named about 50 Ohio and Kentucky churches he had pilaged during the past year.

Before being sentenced, Marsden was taken to Hamilton and Cincinnati, O., and Covington, Ky., where he implicated four men of Bromley, Ky., who are now in custody at Covington under $5,000 bond each, charged with robbing Kentucky churches along the Ohio River.

Marsden denied the Carey robbery, though witnesses testified he stole a statue of the Blessed Virgin from the shrine and sought a $200 ransom from the priest for its return.

Upper Sandusky, July 8.—Ray K. Marsden, of church robbing fame, who has been lodged in the county jail for some time was taken to Columbus yesterday to begin a three to 15 year sentence in the Ohio Penitentiary for the robbery of Our Lady of Consolation Church, Carey.

Marsden, who according to his confession has been mixed up in some 30,000 robberies of Catholic churches over the country stole the sacred image from the church at Carey later attempting to elicit $200 from Father Alois Fish for its return.

Marsden had little to say as sentence was pronounced on him by Judge Earl B. Carter. His attorney, David Greer, made a plea for leniency as much as Marsden furnished valuable information regarding the most sensational series of church robberies ever recorded in the country.

Judge Carter stated that leniency was being meted to the prisoner in that the status provides for a minimum of five years. The two years were taken off for his exposure of other and previous robberies.

Other prisoners in the jail at the time say they hated to see Marsden leave. In the seven weeks that he has been lodged there, he has acquired a reputation for being the most unquenchable character ever within the walls as was sort of a curiosity to the other inmates.

ATTACHMENTS BEING PLANNED ON BACK TAXES

Forced Payment on Delinquent Personal Assessments Under Consideration

and sale of property to satisfy delinquent personal assessments against residents of the city will be the next step now being conducted by the office of the city auditor, who is working under contract with the treasurer and commissioner. It is given in court that the delinquent property owners will be given 10 days within that time, enough time to pay and should they fail to do so, the property will be sold to cover the tax account. The plan was outlined today by the city auditor, who said that according to the provisions of the law, it is necessary in a large number of cases to sell the property.

When taxes are past due and unpaid, the city treasurer may disturb the property and chattels belonging to the person charged with such taxes, if found within the city, to pay the taxes so remaining due and the costs that have accrued. He shall immediately advertise in three public places in the township where the property was taken the time and the place where it will be sold. If the taxes and costs accrued are not paid before the date appointed for such sale, which shall be not less than 10 days after the taking of the property, the treasurer shall sell it at public vendue or so much thereof as will pay such taxes and costs.

These two laws and the three others relating to enforced tax collections appear on printed slips which handlers to delinquents inclined to dispute the collection procedure.

In one Ohio county where handlers conducted a similar collection several years ago automobile dealers who held mortgages on cars instructed him to present all overdue tax claims against the mortgaged cars to them for payment.

No Obstacles, Claim That the plan is being purchased on the assumption that no obstacle to attachment and sale for payment of taxes, the law has ruled. Taxes are a first lien and must be paid in full before any consideration is given to other claims.

Section No. 5,608 of the Ohio statute one of the five covering tax collection procedure. It reads as follows:

On trial of the action in the next proceeding section, if it is found that the person is indebted, judgment shall be rendered in favor of the treasurer consecrating the action as in other cases.

If Youth But Knew

BY ROGER W. BABSON,

A cocoon with wings, or a tadpole,
which could jump about on land, might be diverting spectacles. A wise old plow horse which would follow furrows faithfully all morning and then take a few four-bar jumps at noon hour might seem versatile.

Man, if he could plan the world
according to modern efficiency ideas, would make some curious, anomalous creatures. Time would be gained if children appeared on the trees already ripe. To have birds emerge from the shell full-fledged, prepared to find their own worms would save the parent birds a lot of work. But how would

Henry Ford's Secret of Wealth Is to Keep Busy at Work

AVIATION GIVES AUTO MAGNATE BIGGEST THRILL

Owens Thousands of Motors, but Prefers Walking as Recreation

(Editor's Note: Following is the final installment of the series of interviews with Henry Ford.)

Detroit, July 5.—Henry Ford, the richest man in the world, the best known and the least understood, today revealed many of his innermost thoughts and intimate beliefs to International News Service.

The world's first billionaire—could refrain from ever lifting a finger but gets the most pleasure by working. Could stay in bed all day, yet is satisfied with six hours of sleep. He believes the greatest gift of his wealth was the increased work it enabled him to do.

Must hurry to keep his appetite on edge, yet has no favorite dish. Could live a life of luxurious ease but prefers to work from 10 to 15 hours a day. Employs 200,000 men and likes to be the first down to work in the morning.

wealth brought to you?" "Just a bigger job to work at," the richest man said. "What have you lost by being the richest man in the world?" "Not a thing." "Not even privacy, personal freedom or the opportunity to mix with people?" "No, not a thing." Ford reiterated, "I get around all right."

Up To State Then he smiled and added, "I like to be as up to date as I can." It is aviation that gives Ford the "greatest thrill," he gets out of life. The huge multimotored, many-passengered air cruisers, with which he some day hopes to establish transatlantic air lines, has displaced the divers as his first love.

"Helping to develop" means experimenting upon engines, plane bodies and other aeronautical problems. Work Secret of Health The auto king, who will celebrate his sixty-fourth birthday on July 30, has the bodily vigor and health of a man half his age. His secret of health is to keep at work. He frequently takes long walks across the countryside near his Dearborn estate and with the exception of a few old-fashioned dances at his huge Dearborn office building, walking is his chief recreation.

"How do you account for your excellent health?" he was asked. "I keep busy all the time," Ford replied. "That's all. I never eat too much and I keep my mind occupied." "How would you advise other men of your age to live in order to share your good health?" "I can't," he answered. "No two men are alike. Just try to keep up to date. Everyone can do that." "How much sleep do you get?" "Six hours or a little less," Ford replied. "Sometimes, it may be a little longer but it is six or less. I get up early in the morning because I like to." The richest man has no favorite dishes that would appeal to the normal appetite. "What is your favorite dish?" he was asked, just after he ate a lunch that included roast lamb, boiled potatoes, spinach, carrots, blueberry pie and coffee.

Advice Early Marriage "I have none," he retorted, and added, with a smile, "the nearest food is best if you're hungry. I work enough to keep hungry and that always gives me a good appetite." "The man who rose from poverty to multimillions in three decades, has very definite ideas about how young America can succeed in life or business." "Do you advise young men to marry young?" he was asked. "I certainly do," Ford responded. "And they should get families. It gives them more experience and stability, aside from domestic happiness."

1,000 COWLAND PIPERS PLAY FOR PHONOGRAPH Dunoon, Scotland, July 5.—Scotsmen the world over are longing for the sound of the bagpipes in future will simply turn on the phonograph. The Cowland Highland Gathering has completed arrangements to have phonograph records taken of the playing of the massed bands of a thousand pipers at the coming Cowland Gathering, and duplicates of these will be sent to all Caledonian and Highland societies throughout the world. Definition of a pedestrian: A person who jumps.

SPORT
SAUCE

MARION will suffer the loss of its foremost figure in athletics of today within the next few weeks. Francis W. Bacon, personnel director of the Marion Steam Shovel, and connected in some way with almost every branch of athletics in the city, has announced his resignation, to take effect Aug. 1. Bacon will leave this city for Dayton or Columbus, to engage in a business of his own, according to present plans.

Without a doubt, Bacon, for the last year or more, has been the outstanding figure in athletics here. Not only did he promote sports of every nature in the city, but he has been and still is, the leading all-around athlete in all Marion.

He was manager and second baseman on the Marion Athletics last season when the local baseball team took the semi-pro championship of the state. He was manager and played professional basketball team last season when it was considered one of the best in the country. He organized the squad.

He was a prominent member of the Marion city recreational hall commission last year and was re-elected to a position on that commission this season. Bacon pitched for the Steam Shovel Industrial League outfit this year in addition to still holding his place as manager and second baseman of the Marion Athletics. He also plays second base on the Steam Shovel representative basketball team, a position which he held last year.

Going still further, it will be noticed that his name ranks among the leaders in golf circles of the Marion Country Club.

THE Marion Steam Shovel athletic grounds, which are now being used by the city recreational hall leagues, have undergone much improvement since Bacon took his position as personnel director of the company, Nov. 16, 1925.

The Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium, constructed last summer during Bacon's service as head of the personnel department, has boosted Marion athletics considerably. Inter-shop basketball and recreational ball leagues have been formed during the last few months at the Shovel and other sports activities carried on among employees of the company. Bacon has been at the head of all.

All of which gives sport enthusiasts of this city something to think about. And right now the Marion Athletics are wondering just what it's all about. Without a second baseman and manager things won't go so well for the outfit that last year won a championship. But Bacon has announced that

Erie Shops Defeat C., D. &amp; M.; Take Second Place

Gardner Tap &amp; Die Outfit Wins Over Fairfield; Steam Shovel Shops Cop Another

Osgood Defeats Hubers, 5-2, and Takes Another Step Toward League Leaders; Shovels Sitting on Top of Industrial Loop

ERIE SHOPS today are a step nearer first place in the Industrial League as a result of their win over the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric Co. team last night. The final score was 6 to 4 and the C., D. & M. has dropped from a second place tie into fourth place.

The 2 to 1 victory of the Gardner Tap & Die outfit over Fairfield Engineers in the seventh frame was the cause of the C., D. & M. double drop. But the Steam Shovel shops won again so the league lead doesn't change. The Shovels have won eight and lost one while the Erie crew has played only eight games and won six of them.

Osgood Wins
Osgood won again last night and will probably be among the leaders when it reaches its nine games. It has now lost three out of seven. It beat the Huber Co., 5 to 2.

With two out in the last of the seventh, Lempe of the Tap & Die crossed the plate with the winning tally in the Fairfield clash. Fairfield, one of the best teams in the league, has had rather tough luck during its last few games and now ranks third from the bottom of the loop. It is still a great worry.

Hartich pitched for the winners last night and Gamble was on the mound for Fairfield.

Jones had but one bad inning in his game against the C., D. & M. The latter team scored three runs in the third frame but the Erie had already counted three in the first of that stanza, so the count stood tied at three all. The Erie put the game on ice in the first of the seventh by scoring three runs but was slightly threatened in the last of the final inning when the C., D. & M. managed to count another.

Kochenberger pitched for the C., D. & M.

Shovel Tops
The Steam Shovel had trouble with the Marion Packing Co. and failed to run up a great score. Baumgardner, pitching for the Marion Packing, surprised the league leaders and gave them only six hits while his teammates were collecting five off Bacon. Bunched hits in the fourth frame resulted in the 3 to 0 victory for the Shovel.

With Toomire on the mound, Osgood had little trouble with Huber. The final score was 6 to 2. Winter pitched for Huber.

Homestead Grays To Play Athletics Here, July 17

The championship Homestead Grays baseball team of Pittsburgh, which comes to Marion on Sunday, July 17, for the first time during its 18-year career on the diamond has been gathering over the opposition in a really remarkable manner the past few weeks. Authentic information reaches the manager of the Marion club that the Homestead Grays now have won 29 straight games. They ran their streak to this figure when they defeated the Salamanca N. Y. club where they played the first day of a four game trip late New York and Northwestern Pennsylvania.

The Homestead Grays are a wonderful attraction and the best road team in the United States. That they will prove when they visit Marion, July 17. They are far superior to the House of David team, the Detroit Clowns, Nebraska Indians, etc., who tour the country every season. The Homestead Grays played all of these teams in Pittsburgh and defeated them all decisively. None of them ever had a chance.

The colored team which has made this elaborate record has won over 100 games in each of its last four seasons and 1927 is likely to be the greatest the club has ever had. Of the first 32 games, all except four were victories. The Grays won 19 straight before they were defeated by the Massillon club by the score of 7 to 1. They later avenged this beating, conquering the Massillon nine by the score of 18 to 1. The Homestead Grays will again play Massillon July 18, going there after their game with Marion, to break the long drive back to Pittsburgh.

There is no doubt but what the Homestead Grays will receive a warm reception when they invade this city on July 17 as ever since the game was announced, fans have displayed keen interest in the approaching contest. The Homestead Grays are noted for their sportsmanlike actions at all times and they will show the fans of Marion and vicinity just why they are such a great favorite.

NEAR MILLION

Grid Attendance at Stadium to Pass 1,000,000 Mark Next Season

Columbus, O., July 8.—By the end of the 1927 campaign marking its sixth year in use, more than a million fans will have sat in at football games here in the Ohio Stadium, unless all signs of time to the croaking prophets of a half dozen years ago who were certain that the stadium never would be filled or justify itself.

In the first five football seasons it was used, a check of the figures showed today, the combined attendance was 844,000, in round numbers. In four of the five seasons, moreover, the stadium was filled to capacity for one game. The attendance in those five seasons has ranged from 148,000 in 1923 to 205,000 in 1925.

Sharkey Starts Training for Battle With Dempsey; Usual Ballyhoo Under Way

Sharkey Needs Only Few Days in Which To Prepare for Tilt With Ex-Champ; Sharkey's Complexes May Figure in Outcome, Says Walsh

BY DAVID J. WALSH

NEW YORK, July 8.—Jack Sharkey, the man of few words usually beginning with the personal pronoun and ending very seldom, if at all, will confront the public eye and confound the public ear this afternoon in New York for the first time since he stopped Jimmy Maloney for a slaughter late in May. The famous raconteur will work five or six rounds and talk possibly as many as five or six hundred at the garden gymnasium, the act coming to town only 13 days before its one-man cast is scheduled to frolic at the Yankee Stadium with Jack Dempsey. Dempsey will spend those 13 days in trying to take off from the exigencies of three months preparation for the biggest issue of his life but, for Sharkey, they will be 13 very active days; in fact, the only really active days he has put in since the Maloney incident or accident or whatever it was.

Sharkey in Condition

Sharkey, young, healthy and full of asanas, doesn't need more than a comparative few days to be as right as cat poison for anyone. For whereas Dempsey is 32 and has fought only six times in seven years, Sharkey is 24 and has fought five times in the last 10 months. He could be actually "short" if he worked less than a week for Dempsey.

As to that, he already has warmed himself up with a few heats in a Boston gymnasium and probably isn't more than four pounds over his fighting weight right at this moment. Sharkey's condition at going time virtually can be taken for granted.

The only factor that can't be taken either for granted or otherwise happens to be Sharkey himself. According to Walsh he continues to rule a favorite at odds verging on 7 to 5 and, considering his youth, ability and the abiding fact that he has fought his way up in this match, these odds are not at all unnatural.

Sharkey Complexes

However, men close to Sharkey in Boston inform me that he is a gentleman of complexes, although probably he would deny this charge with the statement that his health is perfect. He thought he could lick Willa and he did. He had nothing but contempt for Maloney and he made the idea stick. But, because of an absurd notion, he regarded doddering old Charley Wastert as a man among men and this congenial push-over, in consequence, was poison.

That being the case, it might be raising to a point of order to inquire as to what Sharkey thinks of Dempsey. He thought so much of him several years ago that he is alleged to have enthrilled, in a theatre while a news reel displayed Dempsey's preparations for Firpo. He thought so well of him that he is said to have made the then champion his idol.

But it seems possible that later he may have changed his mind. He went to Philadelphia for the Tunney fight and anyone who wandered off into that night of rain with the impression that Dempsey still was a superman simply laid himself open to suspicion as being a super-idiot.

CUBS TRIM PIRATES; TAKE LEAGUE LEAD

'Bruins Eke Out 2 to 1 Victory Over Rivals; Rain Eliminates Ninth Inning

Hal Carlson and Joe Dawson Stage Pitching Duel in Crucial Game; Paul Waner's Wild Throw Lets in Winning Run

NEW YORK, July 6.—The club that manager could "see" except its own, leading the National League race today by the margin of a single percentage point.

Following the same game fight they have waged all season, the Chicago Cubs went to the plate by eking out a 2 to 1 victory over their rivals, the Pittsburgh Pirates, rain cutting off a ninth inning in which both clubs had scored.

The Pirates had tallied a run and were trailing, 4 to 2, with a man on third and one out in the ninth when the rain turned them back.

The game proved a great pitching duel between Hal Carlson, recently obtained from the Phillies, and Joe Dawson, Western League recruit, the latter allowing three hits and Carlson four. Paul Waner's wild throw allowed

FREIGHT TRADE INCREASE SEEN BY RAILROADS

Harvesting Will Cause Boost in Traffic; Lines in Good Condition

Heavier freight traffic is expected through Marion during the next few weeks as railroads handle this year's crop movement.

Railroads of the Middle West are in better condition to take care of the movement this year than ever before, according to bulletins issued by the car service division of the American Railway Association. Not only are they getting a greater number of new cars, but they are also in better condition to meet the anticipated increased traffic.

Since the heavy crop movement of 1924, Western railroads have installed nearly 65,000 new and rebuilt box cars to take care of all grain traffic. There is also need for heavier loading of cars, it is said.

18 on Rail Trip
Eighteen Marion persons left last night on Erie train No. 4 for New York, taking advantage of the first 18-day limit excursion of that railroad. The train carried extra coaches and sleeping cars to accommodate large crowds on the New York trip.

No Marion residents boarded the morning train to New York, also operated under excursion rates, but extra coaches on that train were occupied by persons from all cities and towns along the line.

Two Excursions
Excursions through Marion over the week-end will include the regular Cedar Point trip over the Pennsylvania Railroad early Sunday morning and the Hocking Valley excursion through Detroit to Niagara Falls.

The Hocking Valley excursion is conducted by the Modern Travelers of America and takes the traveler through Detroit, into Canada, and down the Canadian side of the Falls. It will leave Marion at 8:10, Saturday night, and arrive in Niagara Falls at 7 o'clock, Sunday. The return trip starts at 6 o'clock, Sunday night.

42 BOYS ENROLLED FOR SECOND CAMP PERIOD

Tent Leaders at Hepburn Outing Are Named; Leagues Organized

Forty-two boys, ranging in age from 9 to 12 years, are currently camped for their two weeks' outing at Camp Robert Under Hepburn. It is the second Y. M. C. A. camp period of the season.

Tent leaders for this period are Hugh Wright, William Peter, Vic and Art Schweinfurth.

Remodeling work at the Union Station has been completed. New exits have been built in some places and other repairs were made. One of the main jobs was the tearing down of an old parcel room, which was built here during the Harding campaign in 1920.

Gillis, Ray Bode, Jack Schweinfurth and Art Schweinfurth.

Jack Under, in charge of activities at camp, has already organized leagues in recreational, athletic and basketball and is preparing for track. There are 30 boys in the basketball swimming class.

Big boys in camp this period were present during the last period. They are Elmo Hartman, Everett Williams, Don Williamson, Paul Hart, George Huntman and Harry Newman.

Donald M. Burton, camp work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is camp director.

OHIO EAGLES WILL CONTINUE PENSION PLANS

John A. Abel, State Head, Says
Campaign Will Feature
1927 Program

The campaign for the Ohio Eagle pension system, one of the major features of the program of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in Ohio, John A. Abel, state head, declared today in discussing the outline of the work to be done during the year.

The pension system is sure to be a success in Ohio the same as it has been in seven other states, Abel declared. He said that the Ohio Eagle pension system will keep up a national campaign in behalf of the pension plan and expects to introduce the plan at the next session of the legislature.

Would Have Referendum. Abel said the bill he introduced in the legislature will then be submitted to the voters for a referendum.

At a recent state convention in Youngstown, where Abel was elected state head for the ensuing year, the delegates voted to continue the pension plan and to raise funds for financing the campaign.

Abel's endorsement in favor of the pension plan was steady in Ohio, Abel said, and he expects the plan has been adopted in other states where it has been introduced.

He said that a survey conducted by the Ohio Eagle pension plan has shown that the pension plan is a very popular one among the taxpayers less than the expense of maintaining county infirmaries and similar public institutions.

To Go to Canton. Abel will go to Canton to attend the first meeting of the officers since his election. Plans for the year's work in the Canton district will be discussed.

The new president's real work in connection with the pension plan will start in September, when he will appoint about 100 deputy pensioners in preparation for the pension plan to be held throughout the state. Abel will have his office at the Ohio Eagle building on W. Center street, and all clerical work of the pension plan will be handled at the office of the secretary, M. L. Brown, in Springfield.

To Extend Relief Work. Extension and enlargement of relief work is one of the main goals of the pension plan for the needy persons generally, and also be a part of his administration program, Abel stated. Last year the state and the various local bodies disbursed the largest relief fund in the history of the organization and this amount will be increased, the new president says.

Extension of membership in the state from 15,000, the present enrollment, to 25,000 is another goal for the Marion plan's administration.

STATE ORDER AFFECTS REFORMATORY INMATES. Massillon, July 8.—Under a state order all reformatory inmates who were working in private homes in Marysville and Union County, have been called back to the institution, and it is understood here that the system of sending prisoners out to work in homes will be abandoned entirely as state policy.

It is reported that the order was issued after an inquiry had been made as to the working of the plan, the State Welfare Department deciding that this plan was unsatisfactory in the result obtained.

KIRKPATRICK COUPLE HONORED BY FRIENDS. Kirkpatrick, July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beers who were recently married, were given an old-fashioned bachelorette party at their home east of here on Tuesday night. Mr. Beers was treated to a fine dinner and a buggy pulled by a number of men, Mr. and Mrs. Beers were presented with a number of gifts.

Food punch and wafers were served. About 100 were present.

Leads the Way

Beginning the mobilization of the Second A. E. F. James F. Barton, above, national adjutant of the American Legion, is sailing for France, July 9, to prepare for the arrival of the advance guard of convention-bound Legionnaires in Paris. He is to establish headquarters of the Legion in Paris.

MUFFIN PANS AS MOLDS. Use the muffin pans when you want to make a molded salad. They just make the size required for serving and take up less room in the refrigerator than several smaller molds. They come in particularly handy when serving many guests, as we seldom have a great number of individual molds on hand.

SOFT SUGAR COOKIES

Two cups light brown sugar, one cup shortening (one-half cup lard, one-half cup butter), one-half cup sour milk (full), two eggs, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, a little nutmeg and salt. Enough flour to roll soft. Caraway seeds may be added. Before putting in oven, sprinkle with sugar. Bake a light brown.

ORNAMENTAL PIES

Part of the meringue of a pie may be colored pink and laced across the white. Slices of banana and bits of bright jelly on top of the meringue are pretty. For a chocolate pie about one-third of the meringue may be colored and flavored with chocolate or cocoa and dropped by teaspoonfuls on top of the white. Marshmallows are as attractive on pie as on cake, and a sprinkle of grated orange or lemon rind gives a yellow tint.

TRY WITH EGG

When the cream refuses to whip add the white of an egg to it. Let both the cream and the egg get thoroughly chilled, then whip them together.
